Days 1, 14 and 28: do the self-tests first (chair stands, arm curls, timed up-and-go) and write the scores on the score sheet. When the last two repetitions of an exercise stop feeling hard, hold the band shorter or go up a colour.

Self-Test Score Sheet

Chapter 4 of the book explains each test. Two minutes, chair against the wall, shoes on.

|                                          | Day 1 | Day 14 | Day 28 | Month 2 | Month 3 | Month 6 |

| Your level (1 / 2 / 3)                   |       |        |        |         |         |         |

Your starting level

|                      | Level 1 - Lightest band, seated, chair-supported | Level 2 - Light band, standing with fingertips on the chair | Level 3 - Medium band or the light band held short, hands free |
|----------------------|--------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------|
| Chair stands in 30 s | fewer than 10, or with hands                     | 10 to 14                                                    | 15 or more                                                     |
| Arm curls in 30 s    | fewer than 12                                    | 12 to 16                                                    | 17 or more                                                     |
| Timed up-and-go      | more than 12 seconds                             | 9 to 12 seconds                                             | under 9 seconds                                                |

Take the level that matches two out of three scores. Split three ways? Start at the lower one.
