

Weekly Shopping Lists

Each list covers every recipe cooked that week for two people, including the batches that feed the following days and the freezer; leftovers are not listed twice. Cross off what is already in the cupboard. Every week, as well: three litres of milk for the tea and the porridge; a bag of frozen berries and a bag of frozen spinach; lemons and limes; fruit for the daily piece (a dozen); a spare tub of low-fat Greek yogurt; a bottle of extra virgin olive oil that will last a fortnight; ground flaxseed in the fridge; and green tea if you drink it. Amounts are rounded up to what you can actually buy; the leftover half of a can or a pepper goes into the next day's salad or soup.

My Own Week

Write your own week from the recipes you liked. The rules: vegetables or fruit in every meal, half the dinner plate; a legume or a wholegrain at every main meal; extra virgin olive oil as the fat; nuts or seeds every day, flaxseed or chia most mornings; oily fish three times a week; turmeric, ginger and garlic in the cooking; red meat once, processed meat never; nothing sugary to drink. Aim for 30 g of fibre and 500 mg of marine omega-3 a day.

Symptom, Joint and Marker Tracker

My conditions (arthritis, heart, diabetes, other): _____. My medicines (blood thinner? statin? anti-inflammatory?): _____. My CRP before: _____ (date _____). Next test: _____

The weekly score

Each Sunday, score the week 0 (none), 1 (mild), 2 (moderate) or 3 (severe) for each, and add them up. Do it before you start, and every week for twelve; the total is what to show the doctor, and what to compare with the CRP.

| Week       | Joint pain | Morning stiffness (minutes) | Swelling | Tiredness | Mood | Sleep (3 = poor) | Bowels (3 = poor) | Total |
|------------|------------|-----------------------------|----------|-----------|------|------------------|-------------------|-------|

The habits, week by week

Tick each day you managed all five: vegetables or fruit at every meal; a legume or a wholegrain at every main meal; nuts, seeds or flaxseed; no processed meat, pastry or sugary drink; the walk (and the strength work twice a week).

The Fridge Card: Keep, Limit, Avoid

Cut out and keep on the fridge. Targets from food: 30 g of fibre a day; 500 mg of marine omega-3 a day (oily fish three times a week); vegetables or fruit in every meal; saturated fat under 20 g; nothing from a packet with a list of ingredients you cannot picture.

| Keep (every day)                                                                                                                      | Limit                                                                             | Avoid                                                                                                            |
| Vegetables at every meal, half the dinner plate: leafy greens, broccoli, tomatoes, peppers, carrots, squash, beetroot, onions, garlic | Red meat: once a week, about 100 g, lean                                          | Processed meat: bacon, ham, sausages, salami, hot dogs, deli slices                                              |
| Fruit, especially berries, apples, oranges, cherries; whole, not juiced                                                               | Cheese: a spoon of parmesan or feta, a small piece of cheddar                     | Sugary drinks, energy drinks, fruit juice by the glass                                                           |
| Beans, lentils and chickpeas most days                                                                                                | White bread, white rice, white pasta: the wholegrain version instead when you can | Pastries, biscuits, cakes, sweets, most breakfast cereals                                                        |
| Oats, barley, brown rice, wholewheat bread and pasta, quinoa, buckwheat                                                               | Potatoes: fine, with the skin, not fried                                          | Fried food, chips, crisps, takeaways more than once a fortnight                                                  |
| Extra virgin olive oil as the fat; rapeseed oil for high heat                                                                         | Butter: a scrape; coconut oil: rarely                                             | Margarines and spreads with hydrogenated fat; deep-fryer oil                                                     |
| Nuts and seeds daily: walnuts, almonds, flaxseed (ground), chia, pumpkin, sesame                                                      | Eggs: up to one a day, or seven a week                                            | Ultra-processed food: anything with a list of ingredients you cannot picture in a kitchen                        |
| Oily fish three times a week: salmon, mackerel, sardines, trout, anchovies, herring; white fish and shellfish on other days           | Alcohol: at most one drink a day, with several drink-free days; none is fine      | Smoking                                                                                                          |
| Yogurt and kefir; milk in moderation; eggs                                                                                            | Salt: under 6 g a day (2,300 mg sodium); the herbs and spices instead             | Anti-inflammatory painkillers as a daily habit without a doctor knowing (they are not an anti-inflammatory diet) |
| Turmeric (with a grind of black pepper), ginger, garlic, chilli, cinnamon, oregano, rosemary                                          | Coffee and tea: up to four cups; green tea two or three                           | Kelp, detox teas, 'anti-inflammatory' supplements and powders sold without a doctor                              |
| Water; tea, coffee, green tea;                                                                                                        | Dark chocolate (70 per cent):                                                     | Very-low-calorie and crash                                                                                       |

The five rules: vegetables or fruit at every meal; a legume or a wholegrain at every main meal; nuts, seeds or flaxseed every day; oily fish three times a week; nothing processed or sugary that you would not have made yourself.

Call the doctor for a hot, red, swollen joint (the same day, especially with a fever); joint pain with morning stiffness over an hour that has lasted six weeks (rheumatoid arthritis is treated early or not well); chest pain, breathlessness or a change in vision (emergency); unexplained weight loss, night sweats or persistent fever; blood in the stool; or, if you take warfarin, before changing how much oily fish, leafy greens or walnuts you eat.
